Ser. Ind

Note on the duties of the Divan performed by him at present and in previous years.

The duties of the Divan are very responsible. He is the District Magistrate, Subordinate Judge 1st Class, District Registrar, Superintendent of Jails and Devasthans and in certain matters Superintendent of Police. He is an Assistant Collector in Revenue matters and is the president of schools and Dispensary Committees. He is the Vice President of the Savanur Municipality and exercises supervision over the Public Works Department. He is also the Divisional Forest Officer in Forest matters.

(2) The duties of the Divan are not only multifarious but more responsible and delicate than those of a British Mamlatdar. He exercises powers under the Mamlatdars Courts Act and does all the work ordinarily done by a Mamlatdar in addition to miscellaneous duties.

(3) The pay of the Divan was fixed at Rs 250/- per mensem, as early as 1868-69 when the State came under British Administration and that rate was continued up till 1884 when the Nawab was invested with powers. The administration has since then vastly developed and become complex. Most of the laws and regulations in force in British India in Revenue, Criminal, Civil, Police, Treasury and other matters have been introduced in the State.

The present pay of the Divan is incommensurate with the responsibilities devolving on that Officer in his different capacities.

(4) The Divan-ship is not generally recognized as a stepping stone for promotion to higher appointments in the British service or in other Native States.

(5) The duties performed by the Divan are often of a quasi public or demi official character. Some of duties are delicate and are likely to render unpopular.

(6) The Divan has, in recent years, been called upon to perform duties which he during the period when his pay was fixed at Rs 250/- per mensem did not perform.

The following are the chief duties recently imposed on the Divan.

(a) Jamabandi,

(b) Heir-ship enquries,

(c) Watan appointments,

(d) Inspection of the Public Works Department Office and the examination and encashment of bills of that Department,

(e) Inspection of crops and boundary marks,

(f) There is no Department in the state with which the Divan is not connected and over which he does not exercise general supervision,

(7) The bestowal of additional powers on the Divan has resulted in the reduction of references to the Offices of the Assistant Political and Political Agents but it has increased his work. The number of - - referencies:-

1902-1903		1910-1911		English and Vernacular are as noted in the margin in 1902-1903 and 1910-11.
English	Vernacular	English	Vernacular
1006	4309	2191	4916

(8) In consequence of the increase of work in the Divan's Office, Government have lately sanctioned the entertainment of two additional karkuns. Increase of work means increase of responsibilities of the Divan.

(9) The District Superintendent of Police Dharwar is of opinion that Savanur is the hot-bed of crime.

He has proposed recently that the Divan and the District Magistrate should perform certain duties in connection with the Police Department and Government have approved of the proposals.

(10) The Divan also does the execution of Civil Court decrees in the case of Agriculturists as in British Talukas.

(11) Savanur is a troublesome charge and requires tact, firmness and honesty.

(12) The imposition of scale judi on the village officers Watan property (Patils and Kulkarnies) and the payment of potgi to them have lately been sanctioned by Government. This adds to the duties of the Divan.

(13) It is but equitable that the pay of the Divan should be proportionate to his responsibilities on grounds of principle and policy.

Reply to Dharwar Collector and Political Agent's No. 4189 dated 7th June 1912..

No. V.O. 131 of 1912.

Office of the Commissioner, S. D.

Belgaum, 17th June 1912.

The Commissioner regrets that he can not endorse the recommendation of the Political Agent Dharwar.

Had Mr. Mangalvedhekar remained in Government service he could not have risen to a post carrying higher pay than Rs. 125/- as in accordance with the rules in force until very recently he had to be treated as unqualified for a Mamlat.

If therefore he had been reverted at any time he would have had to be content with Rs. 125/- per mensem for the rest of his service.

The fact that he has secured an outside appointment and has risen from Rs. 150 to Rs. 200 in it and that the State (not Mr. Mangalvedhekar) has paid contribution on this pay can be only considered as great good fortune.

As regards the future the orders of the Government of India are clear and Mr. Mangalvedhekar can not be allowed (when the Nawab assumes his administration) to draw more than the pay of the grade higher than the one he occupies permanently, in British service. That is he may, if the Nawab is immediately placed upon the Gadi, draw Rs. 175/- or the pay of a IV grade Mamlatdar. If as is probable Mr. Mangalvedhekar has risen to the rank of IV grade Mamlatdar by the time the Nawab is installed he will then be able to draw his present pay of Rs. 200/- which the Commissioner thinks is quite sufficient.

In effect this application is one to induce the Commissioner to give Mr. Mangalvedhekar special promotion among the Mamlatdars but as this can not be done without injustice to those incumbents who have for many years had prior claims the Commissioner is unable to agree to it.

Sd. W. D. Sheppard

Commissioner, Southern Division.
